What is Paid To Read Email®?

Paid To Read Email® is an online rewards community where you can earn money for your time and efforts by reading emails, taking surveys, completing offers, referring friends and more! You can also choose to earn points that are redeemable for gift cards, guaranteedTM paid emails (GPE) and more.

How and when will I be paid?

Member cash commissions shall be paid by PayPal, so be sure to provide your valid PayPal email in your Profile.

Member points are redeemable for gift cards or guaranteedTM paid emails (GPE). GPE redemption is processed instantly and member GPE increases automatically upon redemption.

Payments are processed within three (3) business days upon request, however your first time payment is processed on a net-15 basis. This means that your first payment will be processed 15 days from the end of the month in which you requested payment. This waiting period is necessary in order to prevent online fraud. Member commissions must exceed $15 in order to receive payment. Commissions earned during any month less than $15 will be carried over into the following month.

Members can see their payment history and the status of their payments anytime on their Request Payment page.

Does Paid To Read Email® pay internationally?

Absolutely! The program is available internationally, however payments will only be made in US currency.

Can I sign up more than once?

No, each member is only allowed to sign up once. Note that only one member in the same household is allowed to sign up. Members who make multiple sign ups with the same or similar name or address will not be paid and their accounts will be terminated

But why would anyone pay you to read your emails?

GPT sites are a kind of online loyalty/rewards sites that pay you for doing a variety of things – reading emails, shopping, taking surveys, playing games, completing offers, etc.

Now when it comes to paying you for reading your emails, it's not actually any old email. You won't be paid for reading your personal emails. You'll be getting emails from these reward sites that contain links to some of their advertisers – could be online stores, universities, etc.

For every new visitor they send to these advertisers, they get some commission. And that is how they can afford to pay you to read these emails.

They (the advertisers) pay the PTR (paid to read) site to send you the email, and the PTR site pays you for reading it.

Now that we understand how it works, it's pretty clear that it isn't a scam.

In fact, this is a more legitimate process than many other ways to get paid on the internet!

It is advertising in its purest form
